

MONTANA STOCKMEN HARDEST HIT

an exaggeration of the cattle losses in the late severe spell. Prominent ranchers estimate the loss at from 5 to 10 per cent. Of late years stockmen, it is said, have put up fodder in large quantities to feed the weaklings and during severe weather they use this for the winter pickings of the season on the prairies. On the other hand, the Montana exchange give a most gloomy account of conditions there. The Glasgow, Mont., News, estimated the losses in that section at between 50 and 75 per cent. In the absence of sunlight, the sheep drivers there being the principal sufferers.

men Aitken, Davis and Scott are in the Victoria hospital and are reported to be improving. Fireman Aitken is the worst injured, having a broken rib and severe injuries to his back and head. Davis and Scott have internal injuries, and Siddell and Dean are injured about the head. The loss amounts to $30,000 with no insurance.

BROADVIEW RESERVE OPENED
 The Broadview reserve, which covers 6,200 acres, was opened to the public on Tuesday morning. The money for the reserve was raised by the sale of 10,000 acres of land to the government. It is understood that the reserve will be used for the purpose of the C. P. R. in their hands and their work. The reserve is the only one of its kind in the world, and all tends to make Broadview one of the most prominent towns in the early line.

FROM DAY TO DAYAN EXQUISITE POEM.

A poem by Thompson which has by many critics been pronounced one of the most exquisite offerings of English poetry, is reproduced here. It is the suggestion of the day of a day (January 21) dedicated to the birthday of Imperial Rome's history. Agnes, princess and saint, was the pagan court of the Caesars. The poet evidently chooses St. Agnes as an appropriate emblem for this chant of a nun; that is partly embodied in verse. Thompson's lines here have the white fire of supernatural love.

ST. AGNES' EVE.

Deep on the convent roof the snows
Are sparkling to the moon;
My breaths here have been with the vapor gods,
My soul may follow soon!
The shadows of the convent towers
Slant down the snowy stair,
Still creeping with the creeping hours
That lead me to my Lord;
Make Thou my spirit pure and clear
As the frosty skies,
On this first snowdrop of the year
That in my bosom lies.

As these white robes are soiled and dark
To yonder shining ground;
As this pale taper's earthly spark,
To yonder argent round,
So show my soul before the Lamb
My spirit before Thee;
So in my earthly house I am,
To that I hope to be,
Break up the heavens, O Lord and far,
Thou! all you starlight keen,
Draw me, thy bride, a glittering star,
In radiant white and clear.

He lifts me to the golden doors;
The flashes come and go;
All heaven burns her starry floors,
And strong her lights below,
And deepens on and up, the gates
Roll back, and far within
For me the Heavenly Bridgeway
waits,
To make me pure of sin.
The Sabbath of Eternity,
The Sabbath deep and wide--
A light upon the shining sea--
The bridgeway with his bride.
—Thompson.

A PLEASING REUNION.

At Toronto last week Rev. Dr. C. W. Gordon, of Winnipeg, and a number of his old Knox college friends and others met at luncheon and discussed the question of a Presbyterian brotherhood for Toronto. Among those present were Revs. Robert Haddow, B. C. Tibb, R. M. Hamilton (those three, with the late Dr. Gilbert Gordon, being Knox's best known), having formed the Knox College Quintette club, who some years ago toured Europe on bicycles. Dr. W. G. Wallace, Dr. Kilpatrick, M. McGregor and Messrs. Dorn, J. M. Clark and J. A. Macdonald.

EMILY BRONTE'S GENIUS AND HEART.

The death of Charlotte Brontë's recently has revived interest in that family of women of great genius and poetic lives--as glowing as the Yorkshire moors about them. Recently someone has reacted Brontë's tribute to Emily Brontë in his "Wisdom and Destiny." In it, however, Masterlink assumes that Emily Brontë's passionate heart was never stirred by any human being. He forgets that Emily Brontë was of the type to be as sensitive of her personal feelings as the Egyptian sphinx, and that it was not the destiny of the Brontë girls to love happily. Her life, as he says, lies open to us--her heart does not, however. What heart does not? "I have at this moment before me," writes Masterlink of Emily Brontë, "the history of a mighty and passionate soul, whom every adventure that makes for the sorrow of childhood of a man would seem to have passed by with averted head. It is at Emily Brontë I speak, then when the first fifty years of this century produced a woman of greater or more incontestable genius." In "Wuthering Heights" he writes, "there is more adventure, more passion, more energy, more action, more love, than is needed to fill life and fulfillment to twenty living existences, twenty degrees of gladness and sorrow." Yet how never came to her. There, however, she sat on her throne and gazed at the footfall; and yet this virgin, who died in her twenty-ninth year, has been the subject of love, has penetrated its most imperious secrets to such a degree that those who have loved the most deeply and sometimes usually wonder what some they should give to the position they held, when she pours forth the most exalting and mystery of a love beside which all else seems pallid and casual.

She does so confidently to feel that with each sentence, each sentence, the delirium of those two predestined lovers of "Wuthering Heights," to mark the self-conflicting movements of the tenderness that would make suffer and the cruelty that would make glad, the beauty that prayed for death, and the despair that clung to life; the realization that desired the desire drunk with repulsive love surrounded with hatred, hatred staggered beneath its load of love. And yet it is known to us--for in this poor life of hers all lies open--that she never loved nor was loved." By the way, Masterlink's description of Emily's parents is far from flattering to the Reverend Patrick Brontë who was the daughter of an English clergyman. The Rev. Patrick Brontë was the most insignificant, selfish, lethargic, pretentious creature that the mind can conceive. There were only two things in life that seemed of importance to him--the purity of his Greek profile and solicitude for his digestion. As for Emily's unfortunate mother, her whole life would seem to have been spent in admiring this Greek profile and in studying this digestion. "But here is scarcely need to dwell upon by existence for she died two years after Emily's birth. It is of little to note, however--if only to prove again that in ordinary life the woman is usually superior to the man she has had to accept--that long after the death of the patient was a bundle of letters was found where it was clearly revealed that he, who had always been silent, was fully alive to the indifference and pitiful selfishness of her vain and indolent husband."

NOT THE FEMININE AIM.

"The evidence shows, Mrs. Murray, that you threw a stone at the constable."
"It shot more than that, your honor, I throw that I hit him!"

SOCIAL.

The message of the Regina hockey team had a hand in being invited to luncheon by Lieut. Governor Borden on Saturday.

Society was well represented in the mass of speakers at the hockey match Saturday night. A party from Government House, including His Honor the Lieutenant Governor, Mrs. Dulyea and Mr. Babbitt, attended.

A Monte paper chronicles the marriage of Miss Eva Le Boulthillier, a charming young woman who represented M. J. Hoggan's paper, "Le Nationaliste," while on tour with the Canada Press Women's Association through the west last summer. The bride chapel of the famous old church founded by Madame de Tonnay was the scene, says the paper, of a very pretty but quiet wedding, when Miss Eva Le Boulthillier, daughter of Mr. Charles Le Boulthillier and grand daughter of a late Hon. Justice Le Boulthillier, married to Mr. J. O. Marchand, Montreal. The bride, who was given away by her father, was attired in a very blue tailor-made costume and pale blue velvet hat trimmed with light brown and blue satin ribbon. She wore a pink and white bouquet of white roses, lilies and carnations. The groom, who was given away by his father, was attired in a very blue tailor-made costume and pale blue velvet hat trimmed with light brown and blue satin ribbon. She wore a pink and white bouquet of white roses, lilies and carnations.

Saturday it brought a number of Edmontonians who have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Riddell, Master of the city, Mr. William Taylor, Miss Taylor and Mr. W. H. Graydon among those who arrived.

Mr. St. George Gray entertained the members of the Ladies' Musical club at a bridge table on Saturday afternoon, as a farewell to Mrs. Bennett, who leaves this week for Vancouver, to be with her future residence.

Mr. J. D. Brown and his bride (see McKenzie) have been visiting at the home of Mrs. Riddell, Master of the city, Mr. William Taylor, Miss Taylor and Mr. W. H. Graydon among those who arrived.

In the room where refreshments were served by Misses Boyle and Mrs. Sullivan, table decorations were prettily put out in pink and white, an exotic shower bouquet of pink and white roses and lilies and carnations, and a high-backed chair with a white cloth of dawn work.

A few of those enjoyed Mrs. Boyle's hospitality. Mrs. Cross, Mrs. Frank Walker, McQueen, Mrs. John Miller, White and Mrs. McGill.

Early 1906 roses packed into each box in the box, which was draped with Union Jack.

A DEADLY CANKER.

The American Government is going to deal with the subject of divorce. There is terrible suffering in the United States in twenty years, and that 1,500,000 children have had their homes broken up. This is a deadly canker at the heart of the social system. The three institutions that make society possible are the home, the church and the state, but the greatest is the home. The want of a uniform divorce law for all the States is partly the cause, and President Roosevelt is perfectly right in attempting to centralize the State's right in this respect in the federal power, and to supply a legislative cure to this canker under which decency is given to the winds. The sanctuary of morality and decency must soon be profaned and destroyed under a system where the lady celebrates her dissolution from her husband with all the éclat of a wedding, and where the husband helps his wife to a divorce, settles an income on her, and gives her away at her second wedding. All this is manifestly a lesson to Canadians to maintain decency on a sound moral footing with a court after the English model, to uphold the sanctity of marriage and prevent recourse to the divorce mills of the United States.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE.

The Registrar of the Supreme Court of Canada is publishing a new treatise on the practice and jurisprudence of the Supreme Court. This work has been rendered necessary by the work of the commission that have been engaged for sometime upon the revision of the statutes, changes in the Supreme Court Act, and by the many additional cases that have been decided since the last revision eight years ago. It is a third of a century ago since the Supreme Court of Canada was established and organized, but owing to the unpedagogical character of the institution, and the loose definition of the jurisdiction in the original Act the statute has been found to be elastic, and to readily lend itself to amendment. The Commission have felt themselves free to undertake not only the work of consolidation, but also that of improving the text itself. The result of the Commission's work will undoubtedly be to afford greater clarity and certainty in decision of cases that come before the Supreme Court.

THE SHAME OF IT.

The public were shocked when apprised of the "listening department" of the Bell Telephone Co. At the investigation by the Commission, the manager of the Company in Toronto stated that he was positive that no leak ever occurred, and that the conversation was never given away. The suspicions of the public have been confirmed. There have been leaks. Evidence before the Commission tends to confirm the worst suspicions with regard to the system of espionage. The term listener carries with it its own contempt, and ostracizes the party who listens beyond the pale of decency. The shame of the Company is that while the public believed they had a secret service, the Company systematically deceived them, and in this way obtained a mass of private business under false pretences. The evidence shows that in one particular case the listener was put on long distance wires which utterly disprove Manager Dugan's contention that the listener was used only to determine if patrons were using their phones for domestic or business purposes. Moreover, the evidence shows that the listener was ready to use the telephone to further the ends of a political party in an election trial. If the Bell Telephone Company intends to debate its privileges and become a common-spy it cannot complain if it receives the justice that is meted out to spies when hunted down and caught.

PURE MILK

No article of diet is of more importance than milk, and while its absolute purity is very essential to the health of the city, nothing is more susceptible to impurities of various kinds than milk. The question of a pure milk supply for the city should engage the attention of the medical men at once. There are, no doubt, some milk dealers in the city who are scrupulously careful, but even the casual observer can see evidence every day of a milk supply that cannot be considered to be of good health of the citizens who are served by it. Some physicians have examined samples of milk and found them to be far from pure as they should be. The with below of the city people, clearly define the conditions under which milk may be sold and the care exercised in the dairy, that these regulations are carefully carried out is highly important. At this time, when sanitary conditions are no better than they should be, that every care should be taken to see that the milk supply is as pure as possible.

THE PASSING OF A HERO

The recent death of John D. Paton, the great missionary of the New Hebrides, marks the passing of one of the heroic figures of the last half of the nineteenth century. For men have labored more uselessly and courageously for the uplifting of his fellow-men, and few men also battled with terrible odds have lived to see so full a fruition of their efforts. When the missionary landed in Tanna, 43 years ago, where he began his work in the islands of the New Hebrides, the inhabitants were in a state of the most savage of savagery, practicing cannibalism and continually engaged in violent tribal wars. During the first twenty years of his life on the island seven of his fellow missionaries were brutally murdered and several of them eaten and all the horrors of cannibalism rife. Nothing but an iron faith in the success of his divine purpose carried him through every appalling disaster. He is a pre-eminent example of the man whom Ralph Connor describes—"The measure of a man's power to help his brother is the measure of the love in the heart of him, and of the faith he has that at last the good will win. With this love that seeks not its own, and this faith that grips the heart of things, he goes out to meet in any fortune, but not that of defeat." After forty-five years of laborious and constant labor there are eight islands of the New Hebrides group Christianized and civilized, fifteen thousand Christians with eighteen churches; there are schools, hospitals and training institutions. Life and property is inviolate, and all due to the humanity and heroic faith of Dr. Paton. His work proves that these results are not the outcome of materialism or social evolution, but a direct result of missionary effort.

BULLISH TEMPERMENT EVERYWHERE

Winter Wheat all Over United States
Suffering From Adverse Conditions.
Green Dags Playing Havoc With Texas Crop. Bull Movement Behind Chicago Oats

Chicago, Feb. 25.—The wheat situation is very bullish, the winter wheat is suffering from all kinds of adverse conditions. Green Dags are playing havoc with the Texas crop. Pressing and thawing is causing damage to wheat in Mo., Ill., Ind. and Mich. To much moisture in the complaint from Iowa and Kansas. The foreign situation is becoming gloomier, and the heavy buying on the Pacific coast by China and Japan certainly does not auger well to the bears, who will wheat on the little rallies. World's supply today will probably be about 17,000,000 bushels against actual shipments a year ago of 8,500,000 bushels. The vista's will show a slight increase in the export and the amount of wheat on hand. Prices will be about the same. World's supply will be about the same. World's supply will be about the same.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS
New York, N.Y., Feb. 25.—The development over the holiday are not particularly sensational but are strongly bullish. London came higher Friday and Saturday for the general list, the bank statement was a favorable one and the outlook for the future is bright. Money is expected to rule easy during the week. Europe will have to cope with a considerable quantity of gold to pay for the securities she has taken in the past few weeks. R.R. earnings will begin to show improvement soon as most of the wheat prices winter traffic is now about out of the way, and the season of cheap hauling is near at hand. Industrial prospects show no signs of abatement and one believes that the good stocks should be bought on the opening for substantial advance in prices.

OATS ABOVE CORN

Chicago, Feb. 25.—It is easy to see that the bull forces behind the present upward movement in oats have the situation well in hand and are perfectly well able to take care of the small offerings that come on the market from time to time. Of course, on these sharp advances there will be more or less timid there is no doubt of the final action. The leaders in the move have said they will put oats above the price of corn in the pit. When we consider the situation present prices do not look too high, the crop of this country was 100,000,000 bushels short. Russia and the other European countries are about 10,000,000 bushels short. Cash demand was never larger and stocks everywhere are practically nothing.

OATS

Chicago, Feb. 25.—Oats are the most active cereal of floor. The cash market started off with a boom and prices were 1-2 cents higher some choice cars at 10 cents over last Saturday now. There is no doubt about the scarcity of the cereal in this country and the way the exporting houses are going after the cars that can be consigned to eastern ports shows there is an excellent demand at the seaboard also. There is a feeling here that oats will go up some more.

EUROPEAN FLUCTUATIONS

Italian Laborers Guard on New York Docks With Fast Results

New York, Feb. 25.—Three Italian docks, controlled over a rebellion today and as a result two of them were returned to a hospital facility. Domenico Santomero, avoiding the still-lives of the others, had been crowded dangerously near the river edge of the pier where he shot Lorenzo Noyell through the head and put a bullet in Francesco Palmieri's heart.

EDMONTON RETAINS CHAMPIONSHIP

Regina "Blew Up" in Second Half, Edmonton Got Five Goals in Explosion—Forwards in Great Form—Immense Crowd—Long Waits at Start and Half Time.

Edmonton handed out a beautiful wallop to Regina on Saturday night at the Thistle rink in the second game for the championship of the province, and the second shield. The final score was 6-1 with a 1-1 show at half time. Edmonton is now champion of the west.

Fully 1,300 people were packed into the rink, and had the fifty-cent seats been thirty per cent more numerous standing room would still have been at a premium. Among the most interested of the spectators was Lieutenant Governor and Mrs. Bulver and a party from Government House, who had seats in the balcony, which was draped with Union Jacks.

The game was within three minutes of being an hour late in starting, and the fault was Regina's. During the day a quartette of the visitors had taken their skates out to be ground and the mechanic put a round finish on them, rendering them rather useless on the hard ice. This mistake was not discovered until the losers came on for a warm-up and they immediately sent their spectators back for regrounding. The crowd took the delay good naturedly. It was Saturday night and the band was furnishing plenty of music. Regina disappointed the crowd badly in the second half. After the long trip it was not surprising they lost. Thursday's match, but the talent figured with a two days' rest, they should give Edmonton a training contest, and many had their money up on Regina to win.

On the forward line Edmonton showed slightly improved form. The scorers all checked much more effectively, particularly Campbell, who held McGregor so close that the Regina man never got much of a chance to star. The winners were more effective in the stick-handling department with the possible exception of R. Blomfield, who was rather used up after Thursday game. Deaton was the man who got the most applause. He played fast all the way through, checked hard and on the work close in on the Regina net, he waded right in every time. Campbell was always prominent and his shooting was superior to Thursday's game. C. Blomfield was on the job all right, though he and Campbell found the trip five minutes too long. Blair was in better form than ever, and saved both Banford and Grady considerable work that usually devolves upon the point. Banford played cautiously during the first half, and in the second worked overtime in rolling up the score when the fireworks display was on. Grady made a number of fine stops, but on the whole was not overworked.

The Regina defence was seriously handicapped. Reid and McLaughlin, who had their skates sharpened found the ice blades finished up on the round and they were never sure of the going. Reid's being badly crippled in this respect.

Kain was easily the bright particular for Regina. He performed even better than on Thursday, for the reason that the defence could not hold the Edmonton line so successfully, and Reid's endorsed retirement did not tend to help Kain at all. The defence was up to form in the first half but in the final period, the Edmonton rush line were allowed to close in altogether for the first fifteen minutes. "Shifty" Carmichael was pretty nearly the whole works on the scoring end. He played a uniform game all the way through. In the second half Smith was considerably in evidence, and had been as effective earlier in the struggle the score would have been smaller for Edmonton.

Stabbing was prominent here and there, but C. Blomfield held him down very closely throughout, while McGregor was badly "browned" by Campbell all the way. The teams lined up:

Edmonton. Kain, goal; Reid, Grady, Blair, Banford, McLaughlin, Cover, Blair, Smith, Rover, R. Blomfield, Centre, Deaton, Stabbing, Lett, wing, Campbell, McGregor, Right wing, C. Blomfield, Timmer, F. England, Regina; W. R. West, Edmonton.

It just took eighteen minutes to corral the first goal, and as it came Edmonton's way the protest enthusiasm of the crowd was poured forth plentifully. The winners got the best of it at the ice, and Campbell took first crack at the nets, but it was too high. Carmichael came back with it but a half had to be called for four minutes to fix up C. Blomfield, who was cut on the cheek. The face-off at centre was to Regina's good and Stabbing went in for a shot, but Blair blocked but lost to McGregor, who in turn was relieved by Banford and Campbell came down again, but shot wide. Carmichael carried it back, but failed to get through. Deaton returned with it, and for a few minutes Regina had some chance on the defence, and all the Edmonton forwards along with Blair were trying to locate. Stabbing, finally relieved, but Blair kiboshed the rush, and returned the rubber, and another bombardment followed in which Reid went off for tripping followed shortly by Deaton and McLaughlin who had mixed it up rather strenuously. With Reid's return Carmichael temporarily eased off the strain with a pretty rush. He did no harm, however, and Deaton and Campbell combined on the return and almost scored. In the scrimmage Deaton was again benched.

Smith missed a chance to score by shooting from too far out. Stabbing, though, came again with it, but Blair got it from him, carried it down and after a short scrimmage in front Deaton finally got it past Kain. Score 1-0. Edmonton had all the best of it at the face-off, and had Regina on the defensive for a few minutes. McGregor ruled but when well in over-acted the puck, and Blair returned it, and Kain had an uncomfortable time of it, until Carmichael came to the rescue and all but scored on a lift. Deaton and C. Blomfield came back with it and Reid was forced. Smith secured in at Regina's cover point and from the side sent in a fast shot that was blocked by Reid in nine minutes. Score 1-1. Housers were for the balance of the half.

The Regina team and supporters held a council of war at half-time, and kept the spectators waiting 27 minutes in place of the regulation ten. A new plan of campaign was adopted. Regina apparently concluded Edmonton was about all in, and the losers abandoned their careful defence game and had McLaughlin play well up with the line. The move looked good for about two minutes. That was all for Edmonton, came along with an extraordinary burst of speed and tailed in five minutes. Regina "blew up" immediately, and in twelve minutes after half-time the figures were Edmonton 5, Regina 1. The losers came back to earth again, but the winners were still winning under high pressure, and in nine minutes more Campbell again located and the count was Edmonton 6, Regina 1. The game, which had been deteriorating ever since Regina's balloon trip, now developed into shipwreck, and the whole, with an occasional flash of hockey. Regina finished the strongest, C. Blomfield and Campbell were kept busy to pull through, but the Edmonton defence never let up and the losers could not register. The goals were scored as follows:

1—Edmonton, Deaton, 15 mins.
2—Regina, Smith 9 mins.
3—Edmonton, Campbell, 5 mins.
4—Edmonton, R. Blomfield, 2 mins.
5—Edmonton, Campbell, 1 min.
6—Edmonton, R. Blomfield, 5 mins.
7—Edmonton, Campbell, 10 mins.

Dr. Strong, of Edmonton, referred to from the press-box appeared to catch about everything, and was by no means unaccountably strict, as he is accused of being in some quarters. Tom Breen, of Wetaskiwin, was judge of play and handed out 11 penalties. Tom, however, didn't have his nerve with him, and chose to warn some of the players when a short rest was badly needed. His eyeight was also a little defective.

Saturday's victory gives Edmonton the championship honors, but the third game will be played tonight, when Regina hopes to have a narrow margin to the goal, and their chances look fair. The Edmonton series finished in Regina's favor to the victors, and people seem to have the best chance of the series to win to night's contest.
